

October 2014- March 2015 Economic Seminars

Date	Name	Institution	Presentation Title
02/10/2014	Steven Keen	Kingston University	"Incorporating banks, debt and money into macroeconomics"
09/10/2014	Nigar Hahimzade	Durham University	"Access to finance, occupational choice, and business performance"
16/10/2014	Stephen Millard	Bank of England	"Labour Market Slack and Inflation"
23/10/2014	Edward Fullbrook	UWE, Bristol	"Capital and capital: The second most fundamental confusion"
30/10/2014	Carlos Vargas-Silva	University of Oxford/COMPAS	"The Labour Market Consequences of Hosting Refugees"
06/11/2014	Calvin Jones	Cardiff Business School	"Hegemony and Capital in Regional Development"
13/11/2014	Matloob Piracha	University of Kent	"Immigrants' educational mismatch and the penalty of over-education"
20/11/2014	Henry Lahr	Open University	"Financial Constraints to Investments in Innovation"
04/12/2014	Malcolm Sawyer	University of Leeds	"Macroeconomic analysis when ecological constraints matter"
29/01/2015	Bas Verplanken	University of Bath	"The Psychology of Habit: From Overt Action to Mental Events"
05/02/2015	Engelbert Stockhammer	Kingston University	'Wealth, distribution and

October 2014- March 2015 Economic Seminars

			demand in OECD Countries”
12/02/2015	Roberto Veneziani	University of London	“A classical model of education, growth and distribution" (joint with Amitava K. Dutt)”
19/02/2015	Ralitza Dimova	University of Manchester	“Is women's ownership of land a panacea in developing countries? Evidence from land-owning farm household in Malawi”
19/03/2015	Bruce Philip	Nottingham Trent	“Monopoly Capital Resurgent?”
26/03/2015	Keshab Bhattarai	University of Hull	“Macroeconomic policy coordination in two country global economy model: VAR and BVAR-DSGE”