In the Travel & Criminal History section below, answering 'Yes' will open a box requiring further details. If a date is requested, enter it exactly in UK format: DD/MM/YYYY. If you have traveled widely, or over a long period, you may need your passport(s) to hand. You must answer these questions honestly. Failure to disclose material facts is a serious matter which can affect your current and future applications.

Include only Entry Clearances issued as vignettes (stickers) in your passport before travel. Do not include Leave to Enter granted on arrival, or Leave to Remain applied for in the UK. The UK includes Great Britain and Northern Ireland, but not the Channel Islands, Isle of Man, Republic of Ireland, or other countries in the EU. Lists of Overseas Territories and Commonwealth countries can be found here:

This is about applications to prolong your stay in the UK.

This question is about refusal of visas applied for before travel. Give full details.

Include decisions to remove you from a country either as you attempted to enter or after you had entered.

Voluntary departure means leaving the UK before a decision is made on whether to grant leave to enter or remain, or before removal or deportation take place. Do not include leaving early or as planned or simply because your visa expired.

This is a decision to prevent you entering the UK because your presence is deemed not to be conducive to the public good, for instance because you had a criminal conviction but left the UK before a deportation order was made. Exclusion decisions are made by the UK Home Secretary alone.

A National Insurance Number, or NINO, is a unique 9-digit sequence issued to people who work in the UK in order to pay tax and other contributions. If you have been employed in the UK, you should have one.

If you cannot find the letter notifying you of your NINO, check your payslips, P45 or other employment documents. If you don't enter your NINO your application may be delayed.

All convictions – including traffic offences - should be listed. You do not need to declare traffic fines which have been paid.
