

Media Summary 19-25 September 2015

Coverage

Bristol Post – Thousands of students descent on Bristol this weekend

Royal Gazette – Bermudian students called to the bar

Bristol Post – Bristol prepares to mark Black History Month

Telegraph – Volkswagen scandal: nearly 12,000 deaths could be avoided if industry met emissions targets

Yahoo – Scientists say car emissions rigging raises health concerns

Expatica – NOx gases in diesel car fumes: Why are they so dangerous

Reuters – Scientists say car emissions rigging raises health concerns

Bristol Post – Bristol Bright Night set to spark

Western Daily Press – UWE seeks to extend its reach to China

Broadcast

Dr Jo Barnes from the Air Quality Management Resource Centre was interviewed by the Telegraph, BBC Radio Five Live, BBC Radio Tees and BBC Radio Scotland about the air quality and VW story that featured in the media this week.

Keith Hicks, Director of Corporate Relations was interviewed by BBC Radio Bristol on the Breakfast show on Friday in an extended feature about students arriving in Bristol. Amongst other things the programme looked at the economic impact of students in the city and student volunteering. Nigel England was also interviewed by BBC Radio Bristol on the mid-morning show looking at how to resolve accommodation issues and neighbourhood disputes.

Made In Bristol TV filmed at Bristol Bright Night they recorded footage of the event and interviewed various people including Professor Glenn Lyons who was exhibiting at the event.