

Media Summary 5 – 18 March 2016

Coverage

Bristol Post – Charity founder is our Woman of the Year - Bristol and Bath Women in Business winners revealed

Bristol Post - Bristol Rovers' lengthy legal battle with Sainsbury's wasn't a waste of time or cash says Watola

I4U.com – Breath testing device AmBeR could end blood test agony

Creative Review – Students create work for refugee auction

EuroGraduate Live – Entrepreneurs present Uni Wars – Battle of Bristol

Independent – A spring clean for your studies

Yachting and Boating World – University teams clash in annual varsity boat race

FilmGamesEtc – Dead Island 2 comes back to life with new UK developer

BBC – Thousands warned not to use 'high chlorine' water

BBC – Welsh supercomputer jobs 'too expensive'

Daily Mirror – Are buff male stars like Zac Efron driving young men to drugs and eating disorders

Bristol Post - 20mph speed limits: they make our roads safer', claims Bristol researcher

The Guardian – The plug and play air quality sensor that could save your life

Gloucester Citizen – Country is facing major shortage of engineers

Broadcast

Professor Darren Reynolds was interviewed by BBC and Sky News about water contamination following problems in the Midlands, thousands of homes were advised against drinking tap water due to high levels of chlorine.

John Lanham was interviewed by ITV's – It's not Rocket Science, Breeze FM and BBC Radio Bristol ahead of the Bloodhound Supersonic Car lecture at UWE this week.

Professor Steve West was interviewed in Millennium Square by BBC Points West giving his reaction the 2016 Budget.

Professor Tony Killard (HAS) was interviewed by the BBC Radio Bristol, BBC television for the breakfast programme and Points West talking about AmBeR the breath detector sensor he created to spare patients the ordeal of having blood taken.

Dr Jo Michell (FBL) was interviewed by ITV news about whether eventually banks and building societies would cease to exist on the High Street.

Professor Alan Winfield was interviewed by BBC R4 Today ahead of a panel debate he was attending at the University of Cambridge, entitled Will artificial intelligence be superior to the human brain?

BBC Radio Wales reported on i-Docs 2016 (Interactive Documentary) Symposium held at the Watershed.

Dr Clara Greed, Emerita Professor of Inclusive Urban Planning in FET was interviewed on BBC R4 Women's Hour on the subject of toilet provision.