

Media Summary 18-24 October 2014

Coverage

South West Business - Dr Steve Melia, transport and planning lecturer, University of the West of England: How do we let our city grow without traffic strangling us all?

University Business – Taking sustainability seriously

Bristol Business News - GVA graduate planner wins prestigious national award

RTPI – Vice-President of the RTPI forges links with China

Western Daily Press – Bristol student Mohamed Elshorbagy becomes World Number Squash player

Bristol Post – Bristol student Mohamed Elshorbagy on top of the squash world

Bristol Post - Bristol's Reach Robotics hoping for royal seal of approval in final

South West Business – Bristol's Reach Robotics business hoping for royal seal of approval in final

CIHT - Plan for a cycling revolution says University Professor

Architects datafile – Water water everywhere – Resilience 14: expert speakers for Britain under water seminar

Media Appearances

Darren Reynolds, Centre for Research in Biosciences was interviewed on BBC Radio 4 talking about water purification.

Mohamed Elshorbagy, MSc in Finance student was interviewed by ITV Westcountry and Bristol TV about his recent success in becoming the world number one squash player.