

UWE Global Water Security Project

Funding Support Explained

If you secure a place on the project, you may be able to access the following funding support.

1. UWE Global Water Security Project funding > £500
2. UWE Go Global Bursary – Water Security Project Scheme > £500/£1000
3. Student Finance Travel Grant > Varying amounts

Below we explain these different funding courses

UWE Global Water Security Project funding

All student successfully placed on the project will receive a grant of £500 to help towards the cost of the project. This is money for you to spend as you wish e.g. flights, vaccinations, visas etc.

We are also assisting the host organisation in awarding them a small amount of financial support for the cost of hosting you. Hosts may be able to offer additional benefits in kind but this will be confirmed at the point of securing a place of the project.

UWE Go Global Bursary – Water Security Project scheme

The UWE Go Global Bursary offers financial assistance to UWE Bristol undergraduate students who are looking to work or volunteer abroad.

An amount of the Go Global Bursary has been allocated to the UWE Global Water security Project through funding from Santander Universities and UWE Bristol.

This bursary is on top of any funding offered by the UWE Global Water Security Project and is aimed at helping you with the costs of participating in the Project only.

The eligibility criteria for this bursary is slightly different to the main UWE Go Global Bursary scheme and the payment could be an amount of £500 or £1000, depending on your personal circumstances.

Contact goglobal@uwe.ac.uk and we will let you know if you are eligible and how much money you can expect to receive if your application to participate in the Water Security project is successful.
