

Get ready for MSc Sustainable Food Systems

A very warm welcome to the MSc Sustainable Food Systems. The whole program team are looking forward to meeting you in person at the UWE Frenchay campus. This course aims to foster leaders in sustainable food by giving you interdisciplinary training with a range of experts, both in academia and practice. We will draw on a wealth of amazing projects from Bristol and the surrounding landscape, while keeping the international context of food sustainability firmly in mind. We hope that you have a wonderful summer in the meantime.
