

Media Summary 13 – 19 September 2014

Coverage

The Star – Flying High

Bristol 24/7 – Jason Budd Scottish Referendum should lead to devolution for Bristol

Bristol Post – New term starts: Bristol braces itself as thousands of university students arrive

BBC Online – Robot to help people with dementia

Design Juices – UWE graphic design graduate Holly Dennis

Surveyor transport network – Planning for success

Federal News Radio – Melvyn Smith, Centre for Machine Vision, Bristol Robotics Laboratory

Bristol Post – Inspiring new generation of talented engineers

Bristol Post - Omnidynamics 3D printing business, based at the Bristol Robotics Laboratory, wins best start-up in Lloyds Bank Enterprise Awards

South West Business – Bristol Robotics Laboratory based Omnidynamics 3D printing business

Venue – Here to help

Media Appearances

Sue Fox was interviewed by BBC Points West covering Welcome Weekend, along with Sue's interview footage of the new students moving into hall and events on campus were shown.

Dr Lisa Harrison gave commentary to BBC Radio Bristol on the result of the Scottish Referendum.

Charlie Roper, Student Union President was interviewed by Heart FM about the Freshers Fair.

Professor Diana Harcourt was interviewed by the Mark Forest Show for broadcast nationally across all BBC local radio, about visible differences in appearance.