

Media Summary 28 Nov – 11 Dec 2015

UWE Bristol News

Coverage

New Scientist – Wearable microbial power plants generate electricity from urine

Gizmodo.com – Researchers have made socks that use urine to create electricity

New York Daily News – 7 apps meant to help your mental health

BBC Online - UWE unit named after Bristol's Princess Campbell opens

MedSim Magazine – University of the West of England opens pediatric nursing simulation suite

GM Journal – UK funding for assistive robotic system will offer a new perspective on ageing

FM World – Connect and communicate

Pharmacy Life – Ageing population are robots the solution to assistive care

Western Daily Press - Reading matter: Tales from the city where light meets darkness

Care Industry News – Funding for Assistive Robotic System will offer a new perspective on ageing

Process and Control Today - Institution launches student Unmanned Aircraft Systems Challenge 2016

Bristol Post – Miley Cyrus seeks Bristol designer to make one of a kind catsuit

Cheddar Valley Gazette – College joy at new university status

Expert commentary

Times Higher Education – Grade increases private school advantage university admissions – Dr Neil Harrison (ACE)

Lawyer2B - SRA super-exam proposal: the market responds, Steve Dinning (LAW)

The Guardian – From social media to the catwalk, is fantasy beauty failing young women?, Professor Nichola Rumsey (CAR)

Gloucester Citizen – Public debate ‘green credentials’ of Ecotricity’s J13 plans – Hugh Barton, Emeritus Professor of Planning, Health and Sustainability

News AM - European analyst: It is not easy to build regional alliances in Middle East – Dr Gunter Walzenbach (HAS)

Washington Post - Barclays Chose Web Search Over Risk Check on ‘Elephant’ Deal – Professor Nick Ryder (FBL)

Marketing Independent Campaign

The Independent – Are graduates ready for work?

The Independent – The essential skills every graduate freelancer should have

The Independent – Driving hungover could be as bad as driving drunk

The Independent – From traumatic brain injury to an Alzheimer’s treatment

The Independent – Business and law degrees combine to open up a range of careers

Broadcast

The launch of the Nursing Simulation Suite at Glenside was featured on BBC Breakfast and also mentioned on BBC Radio Bristol.

Janette Kerr, UWE researcher and RWA President was interviewed by Made in Bristol TV about her Arctic expedition The Arctic Circle 2016.

Dr Tim Chatterton was interviewed on the Breakfast show on BBC Radio Bristol about the planned gas-fired power station in a residential location in St Wergerghs.