

Media Coverage Summary 3 – 9 September 2016

Coverage

Independent – Why Muhammad may be the most common baby boys' name in England and Wales

Guardian – How I started crowdfunding charity with Dads £2,000 legacy

Bristol Post – Watch the Bristol freestyle footballer with amazing skills beyond the likes of Ronaldo and Messi

Bristol Post - Bristol University lecturer wins British wildlife photography awards with stunning tadpole picture

Daily Mirror - Pentagon chiefs fears Terminator could come true with advanced robot weapons wiping out humanity

Independent – Law students help launch community cafe

Broadcast

Dr Tom Appleby was interviewed on BBC Inside Out as an expert in marine law, he was commenting on the EU fisheries rules. The interview can be viewed here from 11:04.

Dr Fiona Spotswood (FBL) was interviewed by Countryfile on BBC1. The programme was looking at supermarket brands in particular the use of fictional farm names used by supermarket chains and the impact they have on the consumer. Watch here from 14:52