

Media Summary 23 December 2014 – 16 January 2015

Coverage

Bristol Post - Bristol start-up Open Bionics to showcase robotic hands at International CES tech trade show in ...

motoring.co.uk - Driverless Cars: Trials Begin In The UK

U.S. News & World Report - Google: Your Computer Is Stupid

Western Daily Press - How technology will run our lives

BuzzFeed - 8 Weird Creatures That Keep Science Secrets

Business Leader - Influential business leader calls for government change on overseas students

Bristol 24/7 - Ebola mission for Bristol graduate

Guardian - Artist Richard Long to stage first show in his native Bristol in 15 years

Bristol Post - Bristol's UWE link-up with Arnolfini will create 'international' demand

Guardian – Should you intervene if you witness a sexual assault?

Bristol Post - Let's celebrate local success

Times Higher - Sector doubles its Stonewall 100 share

HR Magazine - Stonewall Top 100 Employers 2015

24dash.com - Stonewall top 100 employers list - full details

Bristol Business News - Bristol's Harbourside to get cultural boost from link-up between Arnolfini and UWE

Bristol Business News - Workplace equality report ranks UWE as the UK university most committed to LGBT employees

Media Appearances

BRL appeared on BBC4 as part of the Royal Institution Christmas Lecture on 31 December (BRL features at 48.52) – Watch again.

Joel Hibbard of Open Bionics was interviewed by Laura Rawlings on BBC Radio Bristol - Listen again. He also appeared on the Mark Forrest Talk Show on BBC Somerset, both on 29 December.

The latest episode of BBC R4 Unreliable Evidence included clips of Alan Winfield posing 'ethical' issues regarding robots for a panel of legal experts - Listen again.

Alex Gilkison was interviewed by Made in Bristol TV in regards to the University's new partnership with the Arnolfini.

Graham Parkhurst was quoted in the Sunday Times in regards to driverless cars.