

UWE First Interdisciplinary Symposium on Organized Crime

Wednesday 10 October 2018

Bristol Law School, Room 4X113

This Symposium is funded by UWE's Centre for Applied Legal Research and endorsed by the Criminal Justice Unit, the International Law and Human Rights Unit, and the Regional History Centre. The Symposium is in association with SOLON Interdisciplinary Studies in Law, Crime and History.

CHAIRS: Dr Mary Alice Young (Law, UWE) and Dr Michael Woodiwiss (History, UWE).

PROGRAMME:

09:00-10:00am: Morning refreshments, informal introductions and welcome speech from Dr Mary Alice Young: "Challenging Organized Crime Narratives in Small Island Developing States: Jamaica."

10:00am: Professor Tim Hall, Human Geography and Criminology, Winchester. "Regional and relational: rethinking drugs, markets and policy."

10:20am: Practitioner led – Speaker to be confirmed.

10:40am: Dr Anna Markovska, Criminology, Anglia Ruskin. "Exploring the criminal underworld in Ukraine."

11:00am Refreshments; open floor discussion; questions and answers session with Professor Hall, Dr Markovska and Mr Benton.

11:45am: Dr Michael Woodiwiss, History, UWE. "The historical evolution and conceptualisation of organized crime: Mexico."

12:00pm: Practitioner led - Mr Chris Atack, Detective Sergeant in the Metropolitan Police Service specialising in Economic Crime. He currently manages the Financial Intelligence and Development (SARs) Team and represents Policing on the Home Office SARs Exploitation Work Group.

12:20pm: Mr Mark Berry, PhD Researcher, Cardiff University, Trustee for the International Association for the Study of Organised Crime. "Technology and Organised Crime in the Smart City."

12:40pm: Open floor discussion; questions and answers session with Dr Woodiwiss, Mr Atack and Mr Berry.

1:15pm: Lunch and networking.

2:15pm – onwards: Speakers and invited delegates: Round table discussion on organized crime and its control in the national, regional and international spheres